THE WATERAX WAY

WATERAX is proud to continue its almost century-long tradition of designing, manufacturing and supporting high-performance and durable portable pumps. The key to its success lies in its ability to craft high quality components which form the cornerstone of superior and dependable pump performance.

Detachable multi-stage pump ends

WATERAX performance and dependability come from our superior multi-stage pump end design, patented in 1958, that provides unrivaled pressure and volume.

- Unique blister resistant mechanical rotary seal to prolong pump end longevity.
- Maintenance-free sealed bearing to avoid the need for greasing the pump end in the field.
- Anodized aluminium impellers and pump body which eliminate galvanic corrosion common with bronze impellers.

Low maintenance drive assembly

Originally designed for the BB-4, the WATERAX low maintenance drive assembly has been time-tested under the most difficult conditions and proven to be dependable and reliable for more than 40 years.

Innovative quick-release clamp

Our innovative pump end quick-release clamp provides ease of maintenance without having to disassemble the complete unit, thus significantly reducing equipment downtime, which can prove crucial in emergency situations.

Convenient 2-in-1 system

The WATERAX 2-in-1 system enables the easy interchanging of pump ends in the field. The platform is also compatible with either a high-pressure or a mid-range pump end, providing users with maximal performance flexibility at the lowest possible cost.

THE WATERAX PLATFORM

WATERAX offers of a complete line of high performance pump ends suited to meet the most difficult water handling requirements. The WATERAX platform is composed of a low maintenance drive assembly, a mid-range pump end and three high-pressure pump ends. The platform's most unique feature is its quick-release clamp system which allows for the hook up of any WATERAX pump end to its drive assembly as well as almost instantaneous pump end detachment and interchange. This reduces equipment downtime, increases its flexibility and significantly cuts costs. These components are ideal for original equipment manufacturers looking to adapt high quality pump ends to their respective fire apparatus.

High-pressure pump ends

The WATERAX high-pressure centrifugal pump ends are offered in 4-stage, 3-stage, and 2-stage configurations. They deliver pressure up to 440 PSI (30.3 BAR) and flows reaching 106 GPM (401 L/min) and are ideal pump ends for moving water over long distance and high elevation.

18-16S / 3-Stage

25-16S / 2-Stage

12-16S / 4-Stage

Mid-range pump end

The WATERAX B2X™ is a mid-range 2-stage centrifugal pump end that delivers pressure up to 200 PSI (13.8 BAR) and flows reaching 300 US GPM (1136 L/min). With strong pressure and volume, it's the ideal pump end for dual attack lines dedicated to wildland and urban interface operations.

It is also an excellent choice for high volume remote watering, booster line applications, brush trucks, slip-on units and for uphill tandem operations. The suction and discharge use a combination of Victaulic and national pipe threads.

B2X / 2-Stage

Drive assembly

WATERAX offers an outstanding drive assembly that boosts the performance of pump ends. The drive assembly increases the speed of pump revolutions resulting in increased pressure and volume. The drive assembly is used with the WATERAX quick-release clamp to enable the coupling of the drive assembly to the desired pump end.

MARK-3®

The MARK-3® is known as the “heart of the suppression system.” Renowned in the industry, the MARK-3® was first introduced in 1964 when WAJAX (as WATERAX was known back then) coupled their patented 4-stage detachable pump end to a 185cc 2-stroke engine. It quickly became the standard wildland portable fire pump used by forestry agencies around the world. A truly outstanding and reliable performer, the MARK-3® fire pump is designed to withstand the rigors of firefighting and it is the core of most water delivery systems in wildland operations.

The MARK-3® successfully passed the USDA Forest Service 100-hour endurance test at San Dimas and requalified under QPL-5100-274 as of August 2015. It is considered to be an essential piece of equipment used by wildland firefighters across North America and around the world.

HIGH-PRESSURE PUMP ENDS

WATERAX offers of a complete line of high performance pump ends suited to meet the most difficult water handling requirements. The performance and dependability of our pumps come from our superior multi-stage pump end design, patented in 1958, that provides unrivaled pressure and volume.

- Unique blister resistant mechanical rotary seal to prolong pump end longevity.
- Maintenance-free sealed bearing to avoid the need for greasing the pump end in the field.
- Anodized aluminium impellers and pump body which eliminate galvanic corrosion common with bronze impellers.

WATERAX high-pressure centrifugal pump ends are offered in 4-stage, 3-stage and 2-stage configurations. They deliver pressure up to 440 PSI (30.3 BAR) and flows reaching 106 GPM (401 L/min) and are ideal pump ends for moving water over long distance and high elevation.

MID-RANGE PUMP ENDS

The WATERAX B2X™ is a mid-range 2-stage centrifugal pump end that delivers pressure up to 200 PSI (13.8 BAR) and flows reaching 300 US GPM (1136 L/min). With strong pressure and volume, it's the ideal pump end for dual attack lines dedicated to wildland and urban interface operations.

It is also an excellent choice for high volume remote watering, booster line applications, brush trucks, slip-on units and for uphill tandem operations. Its suction and discharge ports use a combination of victaulic and national pipe threads.

DRIVE ASSEMBLY

WATERAX offers an outstanding drive assembly that boosts the performance of pump ends. The drive assembly increases the speed of pump revolutions resulting in increased pressure and volume.

The platform's most unique feature is the WATERAX quick-release clamp system which allows for the hook up of any WATERAX pump end to its drive assembly as well as almost instantaneous pump end detachment and interchange. This reduces equipment downtime, increases its exhibity and significantly cuts costs.
